

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 8, 2016

National Endowment for the Arts
Washington, D.C.

To Whom It May Concern:

Attached please find a Message from the First Lady and Dr. Biden.

Please be advised that the White House has strict guidelines governing the use of Messages. The attached document may only be used for the specific date and purpose for which it was provided. This letter may used for public display.

Any unauthorized use or display of this Message or White House letterhead is strictly prohibited without the prior written consent of the Director of Correspondence.

Please also note the following non-comprehensive list of actions that are expressly prohibited: alteration of this Message; sale of this Message; and use of this Message for fundraising, recruiting, advertising, solicitation, promotion, or as an endorsement of any individual, entity, organization, or unit of government. These prohibitions apply in all forms of communication, including, but not limited to electronic, print, and/or display on website.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Blaine Boyd". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned below the word "Sincerely,".

Blaine Boyd
Director of Correspondence for the First Lady

THE WHITE HOUSE

June 8, 2016

It's our pleasure to send warm greetings and sincere thanks to the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, the Department of Defense, and the exceptional museums participating in the Blue Star Museums initiative.

Ensuring our Nation's military community has the recognition and support they deserve is one of the core missions of our Joining Forces initiative. That's why we're thrilled that since 2010 Blue Star Museums has honored members of the armed forces and their families with free admission to museums across the country.

Throughout the summer, more than 2,000 museums will open their doors and welcome service members and military families to discover, explore, and create special memories together. As Americans, each of us owes a debt of gratitude to those who serve, and this initiative is an excellent opportunity to show just how grateful we are for their sacrifices.

Again, thank you all, and we wish you the very best in the months ahead.

Michelle Obama Joe Biden